

Do You Want to Walk in Cambodia's Beautiful Forests? Work with Honey and Resin Producing Communities? Improve Peoples' Lives?

If you do and you meet the criteria below, we encourage you to join the best rural economic development project in Cambodia as part of our Biodiversity Conservation team.

The USAID Cambodia MSME Project

The USAID Cambodia MSME Project is Cambodia's cutting edge rural economic development project. An important component of this project is biodiversity conservation through sound management of areas of biological importance. Activities focus on reducing threats to biodiversity, strengthening the wild honey and resin value chains and promoting sustainable conservation practices by local communities and government agencies. The project operates in 17 sites in four priority landscapes including: the Cardamom Mountains eco-region, Boeung Per, Prey Lang and Oddar Meanchey.

The project is currently seeking a skilled, diplomatic, creative, highly-energetic Cambodian professional to fill the role of:

Community-Based Natural Resource Management Specialist

The objective of the CBNRM specialist is to support the integration of biodiversity conservation activities through targeted livelihood improvements using the Cambodia MSME Project's value chain approach. Responsibilities include developing integrated conservation plans, supporting community participatory mapping processes that foster local management and sustainable utilization of resources, providing training and helping to develop the capacity of associations and community forestry groups, and implementing monitoring plans that gauge the impact of biodiversity threat reduction activities.

If you are interested and meet the following requirements, please apply:

- Ability to creatively analyze and solve problems and the desire to achieve your best.
- Experience implementing community-based NRM activities in Cambodia.
- Ability to communicate and facilitate discussions and meetings with community members, government officials, and development agencies.
- Experience in land-use planning.
- Strong written and oral fluency in both English and Khmer.

We pay competitive salaries and fair daily allowances. If you meet the qualifications listed above and are interested in joining our fun, dynamic team, please send us your 1) Detailed CV, 2) Position and Salary History, and 3) Three Professional References to CambodiaMSME@dai.com or deliver them to Building F, Room 588, Phnom Penh Center, Phnom Penh, no later than Friday, May 28 at 5pm.
